PRINCE LOUIS AT NEW YORK

The Two Squadrons Made
Most Magnificent Pageant.

AN ELABORATE FESTIVE PROGRAM

New York, Nov. 8.—The New York-ers were up bright and early today and many thousands of them made it convenient to congregate along the North River front, from the Battery to Forty-second street, to witness the arrival of the British cruiser squadron, under the command of Prince Louis of Battenburg, and the naval ceremonies connected with that event. The battleships and cruisers of the American fleet were anchored in a long line extending from the lower end of the river, off Twenty-second street to a point off One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street. Everything was in perfect order, and the metal work as bright and shining as diligent scouring and polishing could make it. Officers and men were in their gala clothes, and every ship presented a model of neatness and cleanliness. A slight mist was still hanging over the waters of the lower bay, when the British squadron appeared, led by the flagship, the Drake. Silently the ships of war stood through the Narrows. When Governor's Island was sighted, the Drake hoisted the American flag and the first boom of the national salute of twenty-one guns, fired by the forward guns of the Drake, vibrated over the water. The last shot had been scarcely echoed from the Staten Island hills, when the saluting battery of Governor's Island fired the first shot of the national salute in answer to the salute of the visitors. The flag salute was given, as the British war ships majestically steamed past Governor's Island and slowly moved up the river, crowded with many hundreds of craft of every conceivable kind. The whistles and sirens of the river craft and large steamers added to the noise of firing, and all along the British ships were greeted with cheers and the waving of hats and handkerchiefs. Once more the guns of the Drake began to speak, when the flagship approached its anchorage near the foot of Forty-second street, where the Maine, Admiral Evans' flagship, was already anchored. The Admiral's salute of thirteen guns, given by the Drake, was answered by a similar salute by the Maine. It was a magnificent sight, as the British cruisers steamed up the river, past the American battleships, and cruisers, all gallily decorated with flags, and with the rails manned, in honor of the guests. After the visiting ships had reached their respective anchorages, the customary exchange of courtesies between Prince Louis of Battenburg and Admiral Evans, required by naval etiquette, took place. In the afternoon Prince Louis and many of the British officers will go ashore. In the evening they will be the guests of Mayor McClellan at an official dinner party. While the minor officers will be the guests of the American officers at various receptions, theater parties and other entertainments. A most elaborate program for the entertainment of the prince and the British officers, as well as the men of the visiting squadron, has been arranged, and so many dinners, receptions, parties, balls and other social functions have been arranged, that the visitors will be well nigh exhausted by the time they will be ready to sail for Gibraltar, their next stopping place. While the officers and men of the British fleet are enjoying the hospitality of the American officers and men, the British ships will be fully provisioned for the long cruise. Prince Louis spent the morning in making calls on Mayor McClellan and Rear Admiral Coghlan, commandant of the New York navy yard.

FIFTEEN PER CENT
REACHED BY MONEY

New York, Nov. 8.—Money on call went to 15 cents today, the highest that it has been for some years past. The last statement showed that the surplus reserve was almost exhausted, and since then large sums have been sent from New York, leaving them practically nothing in this market to be loaned. It is reported that Secretary Shaw intends to deposit several millions of government funds with the banks to relieve the situation, but the report could not be confirmed.

SAN DOMINGO.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—The navy department has been advised by cable that the cruiser Denver left Guantanamo yesterday for San Pedro, San Domingo, to which place Rear Admiral Bradford was ordered to send war ships at once yesterday. The Denver should reach there today. The navy department has also been advised that Admiral Bradford left yesterday with his flagship, the Olympia, bound from Guantanamo to San Domingo. The sunboat Eagle has been temporarily assigned to Admiral Bradford's division in Dominican waters.

TYPHOON AND HEAVY RAIN
REPORTED FROM GUAM.

Guam, Nov. 8.—A severe typhoon, accompanied by a deluge of rain, took place here yesterday. No serious damage was done to property but no lives were lost.

COUNTY TO REBUILD
CORRALLES BRIDGE

Commissioners Instruct Surveyor D. J. Rankin to Prepare Plans.

TO DIVIDE PRECINCT NO. 5

The board of county commissioners met in regular monthly session at the court house this morning and transacted considerable routine business. The board at this morning's meeting decided that inasmuch as it had been definitely determined that the Corrales bridge was in Bernalillo county, it was time action was taken looking towards the repair of this bridge, which was destroyed by the spring freshets and has been utterly impassable for a number of months.

The board instructed the clerk to notify County Surveyor D. J. Rankin to prepare plans and specifications for the rebuilding of the bridge so that bids could be advertised for in the near future and a contract let for the repair of the bridge. This structure is one of the largest and most important bridges spanning the Rio Grande in Bernalillo county and its repair will be hailed with delight.

The commissioners have decided to divide precinct No. 6, Bernalillo, and a special election has been called for November 22, when a justice of the peace and a constable will be elected for the new precinct. It will be known as precinct No. 1 and will be named San Jose.

The board appointed Dr. F. A. Jones, H. Kent and Daniel Scruggs as delegates to the American Mining congress which convenes at El Paso, Texas, on the 18th of this month.

NEW YORK LIFE WILL DEFY MISSOURI LAW

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 8.—Notwithstanding the fact that State Superintendent of Insurance Vandiver last night officially suspended the certificate of authority of the New York Life Insurance company, under which it was licensed to do business in Missouri, it was stated at the St. Louis office of the insurance company that no attention was being paid to the order suspending the license. There are 30,000 Missouri policy holders in the New York Life Insurance company, with an estimated insurance of $60,000,000.

SECOND MEETING OF ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Soliciting Committees Will Meet Saturday at Temple
Albert Parsonage.

COLORED PEOPLE ARE INTERESTED

The meeting of the committees appointed from the different churches of the city to solicit subscriptions for the Associated Charities, held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. H. Carrs, on West Gold avenue, was so sparingly attended that it was decided that it would be better to call another meeting to be held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the parsonage of Temple Albert. This meeting, it is hoped, will be attended by every committee. It is urgent that every church have their representatives present, as the Sisters of Charity, as well as other charitable organizations of the city who will derive benefit from the Associated Charities are sorely in need of funds.

Rabbi Kaplan, president of the Associated Charities, presided at the meeting held this afternoon, and the plans of the association were discussed in a general way. As a large number of people do not fully understand the purposes of the Associated Charities, The Citizen has requested Rabbi Kaplan to give an explanation of the organization in every detail. This article will appear in The Citizen tomorrow evening.

A few of the soliciting committee appointed are as follows: Temple Albert—Mrs. Alfred Grunfeld and Mrs. Simon Neustadt. St. John's Episcopal church—Mrs. Maynard Gansel and Mrs. J. A. Hubbs. Congregational church—Mrs. D. L. Anderson and Mrs. Butler.

First Presbyterian church—Mrs. W. J. Johnson and Mrs. R. L. Hust. Christian church—Mrs. E. J. Webster and Mrs. Clarence TenEyck. Mrs. George Wilson was appointed to see the railroad people and Mrs. Lot was selected to visit the colored people.

Mrs. Lott was present at the meeting this afternoon and said that the colored people were very willing to help in the work outlined by the Associated Charities and she believed that it would be a good plan to organize a sub-committee for the work among the colored people. The suggestion met with the approval of the meeting. Mrs. Lott said that if all the colored people or several of them had something to do with the work, they would take more interest in it.

There is a bright outlook for the Associated Charities, and every one who can help in work or deed to make it a success should co-operate. Once the Associated Charities is on its feet the caring for the poor of Albuquerque will be practically over.

ASSERTS CANDIDATE HEARST

He Gets Order Taking Ballot
Boxes From Police
but
THE ELECTION BOARD REFUSES

New York, Nov. 8.—A campaign to defeat Tammany hall in the supreme court and to declare William R. Hearst the rightfully elected mayor of New York, in place of George B. McClellan, was inaugurated at a crowded meeting of the Municipal Ownership League last evening. At the close of the meeting, Hearst said: "We are going to fight to-day, tomorrow, next month and next year, to make it possible for a man to cast an honest vote and to prevent in the future such disgraceful conditions as yesterday, especially in Sullivan's and Murphy's districts, and we will invoke every legal means to have every ballot honestly counted. We are receiving voluntary offers of money from business men to aid us in this appeal."

Mr. Hearst's lieutenant, then, announced that the evidence showed that 30,000 Hearst men were defrauded out of their rights to vote Tuesday and that 1,000 election inspectors were guilty of illegal acts, and that the contest would immediately be carried over the heads of the canvassing board to the supreme court. They said the object of this plan was to secure a speedy and final answer, and that money was not to be spared in engaging special counsel in all parts of the United States to make this plan successful.

The leaders said that in less than twenty-four hours after the polls closed the Municipal Ownership League had secured over 1,000 affidavits charging illegal acts against about 1,000 election inspectors. These affidavits state that the inspectors in question were Tammany men. Mr. Hearst said that within a year a "chain of these men would be sent to Sing Sing." It was also stated that in the east side assembly districts, including the Eighteenth, Charles E. Murphy's home district, affidavits had been secured to show that at least 30,000 votes were illegally cast Tuesday on the names of voters who went to the polls to vote for Mr. Hearst and the municipal ownership league ticket, but who, when they arrived at the polls, found their names already voted upon.

JEROME AND OTHERS.
APPROVE THE COURSE.

New York, Nov. 8.—Most of this fraudulent voting is said to have been done in the east side assembly districts, especially in the Eighteenth, the district in which Charles E. Murphy resides, and in the Sixth, of which Timothy D. Sullivan is leader. Mr. Hearst's proposed action met with warm approval in many quarters, even among those who opposed his election, and he received many assurances of support. District Attorney Jerome expressed himself in terms of strong approval of Mr. Hearst's program, and declared that he would immediately investigate a searching investigation of the alleged democratic frauds. He also ordered the returns from the Eighteenth and Sixth districts carefully guarded.

Ira C. Darrin, the newly elected district attorney of Queens county on the republican ticket, made a similar statement.

William L. Ivins, the defeated republican candidate for mayor, also commended Mr. Hearst's action, and expressed the belief that a recount would show that Mr. Hearst had been elected.

HEARST MAKES PROMPT MOVE TO PREVENT FRAUD.

New York, Nov. 8.—Sensational developments followed each other rapidly early this morning in the contest for mayoralty. Having secured last night an order from Justice Gaynor, of Brooklyn, directing the police department to deliver the election boxes to the board of elections forthwith, the Hearst men lost no time in dispatching five automobiles to the various police stations for the boxes. In most cases, each lot of boxes was guarded by five policemen and the street in the neighborhood of the office of the elections board soon became jammed with people.

VORHEES, OF ELECTION BOARD, RECALCITRANT.

New York, Nov. 8.—President Vorhees, of the election board, refused to open his office in advance of the regular time, 9 o'clock, and the opinion was expressed when the office was opened this morning that the office could not possibly receive all the 8,000 boxes in the city. Action was taken by Hearst because of a rumor that a printing office was running off a number of ballots and he feared the boxes would be stuffed while they were in the hands of the police.

President Vorhees refused early today to receive the official ballot boxes as the New York supreme court had held in recent elections that the board of elections is not the proper custodian of the boxes, but that the police are.

MCCLELLAN SECURES ABLE COUNSEL TO KEEP OFFICE.

New York, Nov. 8.—Mayor George B. McClellan announced today that to protect his interests in the proceedings brought by W. R. Hearst in contesting the mayoralty election, he had retained legal counsel. He has employed the law firm of Parker, Sheehan and Hatch, of which Judge Alton B. Parker is head, and the firm of Dykeman and Carey. The first named firm is of Manhattan and the second of Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN TAKES SAME STAND AS VORHEES DID.

New York, Nov. 8.—President Vorhees said even if the legal decision should be that his board must receive the ballot boxes, he would have them sent under police guard to some storage place other than his office, which was too small for the purpose. In Brooklyn, also, the ballot boxes were not accepted by the board of elections, but the police were permitted to carry them into their room in the Temple Bar building. It is reported that many ballot boxes in Brooklyn were not properly sealed.

He was the prohibition candidate for superior court judge in Pennsylvania, but failed to be elected. It was Castle who first, in public speeches, exposed the Enterprise bank transactions, which institution failed a short time ago, and of which its cashier, T. Lee Clark, committed suicide.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 8.—Both Count Witte and the emperor have made another surrender. General Trepoff has been removed from the powerful position which he occupied, that of governor general of St. Petersburg and assistant minister of the interior, and the Russian premier has agreed to immediate universal suffrage. Count Witte, while not questioning the sincerity of Trepoff in co-operation in the new regime, realized the universal hatred in which he was held, and General Trepoff himself, agreed to his retiring would appease the popular wrath, but it was some time before the emperor would yield, as he regarded General Trepoff as a safeguard to himself and family. Finally he yielded, on the condition that General Trepoff become the latter then resigned as governor general.
